

Selected Reports in Ethnomusicology, Vol. 10 (1994)
Musical Aesthetics and Multiculturalism in Los Angeles

Steven Loza, editor
Paulette Gershen and Eddie Huckaby, associate editors
Jay Keister, editorial assistant

CONTENTS

PREFACE.....	iii
Musical Aesthetics and Multiculturalism in Los Angeles: An Introduction Steven Loza	1
L.A.: One Society, One Culture, Many Options Jacques Maquet	15
Music and The Cultural Imagination Roger W. H. Savage	23
Interpreting Metaphors: Cross-Cultural Aesthetics As Hermeneutic Project Angeles Sancho-Velázquez	37
Identity, Nationalism, and Aesthetics Among Chicano/Mexicano Musicians in Los Angeles Steven Loza	51
The Evolution of Banda Music and the Current Banda Movement in Los Angeles Carlos Manuel Haro and Steven Loza	59
Music at the 1993 Los Angeles Marathon: An Experiment in Team Fieldwork and Urban Ethnomusicology Timothy Rice with Jay Mendoza, Jacob Edgar, Jean Kidula, Ellen Sinatra, Sharilee Johnson, Kimasi Browne, Sarah Truber, Roberto Catalano, and Muralikerishnan	73
Music in the Chinese Community of Los Angeles: An Overview Guangming Li	105
Eleanor Hague (1875-1954): Pioneer Latin Americanist Robert Stevenson	129
The Bands of Tomorrow Are Here Today: The Proud, Progressive, and Postmodern Sounds of Las Tres and Goddess George Lipsitz	139
Los Angeles Gangsta Rap and The Aesthetics of Violence Steven Loza, Milo Álvarez, Josefina Santiago, and Charles Moore	149

Social Aspects of Persian Music in Los Angeles Behzad Allabyar	163
Context-Dependent Aesthetics: Mariachi Music in Los Angeles Steven Pearlman	183
"Popular Prices Will Prevail" Setting the Social Role of European-Based Concert Music Catherine Parsons Smith	207
Outside-In: Lost in L.A. with Bobby Bradford Grace M.	223
Contributors to the Volume	234