The Summer Songwriting Intensive at the UCLA Herb Alpert School of Music is a week-long program designed for high school students age 14-18. Participants will learn the components of songwriting, including the delicate balance of collaboration, while gaining an understanding of the professional expectations of today's music industry.

- Learn how songs work, processes and types of songwriting, home studio setup, and the importance of tracking royalties, studio expectations, and creative collaboration.
- Interact with UCLA faculty, working songwriters, and guests from the Los Angeles music industry.
- Participate in a student showcase featuring the class's best original tracks
